

Gourmet Weekend - take part in a masterclass with a Michelin starred restaurant's chef

Every year the nearby town of Saulieu hosts a gastronomic fair, the 'Journées Gourmandes', where local producers come together under one roof to offer tastings of their wares, chefs demonstrate how to cook local and more exotic dishes, and visitors tuck into a juicy charolais steak and accompanied by a glass of pinot noir, in the hubbub of the popular fair.

For this event, we propose a Gourmet Weekend at the Château, where a group (8-12 people) can participate in masterclasses with Michelin starred restaurant chefs, visit local markets and producers, flex their palets in the cellars of respected Burgundian wine growers, eat out in chosen restaurants of varying calibers, and relax back at the château around a hearty Burgundian meal, 'bien arrosé'*. An indicative programme of events for this package will be outlined on a Gourmet Weekend page, although this can be modified to suit a group's needs and wishes, just ask!
